A. J. Nunes Reported As Dead

Death in action of S. Sgt. Anthony J. Nunes of Redwood City was announced Tuesday by the War Department, ending the year-and-a-half long hopes of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nunes of 133 Buckeye St. that their son might be alive in a German prison camp.

Because Sergeant Nunes took the place of an ill buddy, Sgt. Milton Ridd of Alabama is alive today to tell how the 22-year-old gunner agreed to make his 25th and last mission over Germany when he was scheduled to remain at the base that Easter Sunday, Apr. 9, 1944.

According to information Mrs. Nunes received, her son's B-17 burst into flames over Germany after encountering enemy action. The plane was almost completely demolished before it hit the ground. Only one of the crew members was saved.

In the service four years, Sergeant Nunes had been overseas about six months when he was shot down. He entered the air force seven days after Pearl Harbor and received his wings as an aerial gunner in January, 1943, at Lowry Field, Colo.

The young gunner attended grammar school in San Bruno and high school at San Mateo and Redwood City. He was an apprentice electrician at a Burlingame shop before entering the AAF.

A brother, PFC Joaquin (Jack) Nunes, was recently transferred from Luzon to Japan. The 18-year-old soldier served as an assistant bazooka man with the 25th Infantry Division on Luzon and battled Japanese on the rugged slopes of Mt. Caraballo Mts.

Sergeant Nunes is also survived by two younger brothers, Joseph and Johnny and three sisters, Dolores, Mrs. Harry Hown, whose navy husband is in Hawaii, and Mrs. Edward Bennett, whose husband has been discharged from the army after serving in the European Theater.

"I GOT 90,300 MILES
on these RIVERSIDES"

"... and they're good for a couple of thousand more!"

That's what Mr. H. B. Lovett of 22046 Negaunee, Detroit, Mich. thinks of Riversides. That's what he wrote to Wards Dearborn Store in a completely unsolicited letter. Needless to say, Mr. Lovett has never regretted the day that he switched to Riverside Tires.

Every time you see Riversides on a car, just remember this; those Riversides did not come on that car when it was new. They were deliberately chosen to replace some other brand of tire! (It couldn't happen so often... without a mighty good reason!)

Redwood City Doctors Stress Need for Hospital Here

Need for a hospital in Redwood City was stressed Sunday by eight local doctors who met with members of the mayor-appointed hospital study committee at the city hall for a round table discussion.

Mrs. Henry Beeger, chairman of the study committee, said Monday that the group is making strides toward laying the technical foundation for erection of a hospital, although the council has not yet authorized a hospital to be built.

Mrs. Beeger opened the meeting by submitting a report of the committee's findings to date. Mayor W. W. Hilton explained the purpose of the group, telling how it was created last Spring upon the recommendation of the community development section of the chamber of commerce. The council then authorized a survey by Dr. Thomas R. Ponton and Associates, to determine if a hospital were needed here.

Upon completion of Dr. Ponton's study and submission of his report to the council, the mayor was instructed to appoint a committee to delve further into the matter and to bring the result of its findings to the council.

The committee appointed included Councilmen C. C. Armstrong and Carl Britschgi; Graham Adams, H. E. Holmquist, Mrs. Emmett Donnelly, Mrs. Beeger, and as ex-officio members, Mayor Hilton and E. W. (Ned) Butler, manager of the chamber of commerce.

Five meetings of the group have been held since its appointment in June, Mrs. Beeger reported. It has assembled literature on hospital organization and management from the American Medical Assn., the American Hospital Assn., the American College of Surgeons, the California Hospital Assn. and the State of California.

Managers of various private and public hospitals in Northern California have been contacted personally by committee members for information regarding their methods of organization, financing and operation, the chairman said. Private, municipal, stock subscription, cooperative and benevolent association type—methods for financing a hospital have been studied.

Mrs. Beeger pointed out that existing legislation permitting the creation of hospital districts and proposed legislation providing for federal and state aid for public hospitals has been reviewed. The committee's findings and the recommendations contained in Dr. Ponton's report formed the basis of yesterday's discussion. Doctors expressed satisfaction at the progress of the study to date and stated they hoped a hospital would soon be available in this area to meet the steadily increasing demand.

Another conference will be held in the near future to discuss plans of hospitals suitable to local needs and conditions, Mrs. Beeger reported. Doctors attending yesterday were Richard Ames, John N. Blood, Dewey Brown, Rex A. Gish, Arend Hedge, Ralph D. Howe, Harry E. Mason and William G. Moore.

Two Autos Stolen, One Recovered

Two automobiles were stolen and one of them recovered over the weekend, Redwood City police reported Monday.

An Oldsmobile sedan belonging to Rocco Basile of 1021 James Ave. was taken from 709 El Camino Real about 10:20 p. m. Sunday, police said. The car was recovered 15 minutes later, and a Tanforan sailor, Robert W. Wagner, 22, was arrested on theft charges. He was picked up at Arguello and Brewster Sts.

Wagner was booked at the county jail and will be tried by naval authorities.

The Oldsmobile sedan belonging to E. A. Garcia of 1159 Main St. was stolen from in front of his residence between 6 p.m. and 7 a.m. Monday, police said.

Following lunch in the school cafeteria, Miss Abbott presided at the session when Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan discussed "American Ideals."

Special guests included Mrs. Ruby Ralston of Woodside, vice president of the California Parent-Teachers' Assn.; Mrs. Stella Jensen, member of the state board of the PTA; Mrs. L. G. Evans of San

Monument Works Head Leaves $88,567 Estate

Leopoldo Bocci, owner of a Lawndale monument business, left an estate valued at $88,567.10 upon his death July 29, 1944, an appraisal filed by Bradford M. Melvin reported Monday.

Miss Abbott introduced Alfred Lentz, legal advisor to the State Department of Education, following Sullivan's talk. Lentz discussed recent legislation affecting trustees and in two hours attempted to describe as many bills as possible that would be of interest to the assembled gathering.

Oehm then presided at the trustees' business meeting and was again elected president, a position he has held for two years. Mrs. Jensen, trustee from the Jefferson Union High School District, was elected vice president, and Mrs. Decima Allen, San Bruno trustee, was elected secretary treasurer.

A committee was appointed to revise the constitution and by-laws of the association, Miss Abbott reported. Two Babies Suffocate, One Falls From Auto; Pedestrian Hit Here

Four persons, including two babies who smothered in their cribs, were dead Monday as the result of weekend accidents on the Peninsula. Victims were:

Sandra Lee Dorn, 6 weeks old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dorn of Redwood City, who smothered in her crib at 138 Birch St., Sunday night;

Stephen Edward Marrs, 6 weeks old, who failed to respond to artificial respiration from Palo Alto firemen after being found in his crib at 219 Ramona St., Palo Alto, Monday morning;

Joseph Slovich, about 50, who died at Community Hospital at midnight as a result of injuries suffered in a Redwood City pedestrian-automobile accident Sunday.

Edgar Wadel, 2½, who was killed when he fell from his parents' automobile on Bayshore Hwy. near San Carlos Saturday night and was struck by an automobile.

The Dorn infant, who was fed and put to bed at 6 p. m. Sunday, was pronounced dead by Dr. Ralph D. Howe approximately 2½ hours later, after her parents had become alarmed at her stillness.

Funeral services for the only child of the Redwood City couple were held Tuesday at 11 a. m. by the Rev. Jesse Lucken of the First Methodist Church.

The Marrs child, whose father had just arrived in New York from India where he has been stationed with the navy, was suffocated in its crib as its mother prepared the baby's bath water, Palo Alto firemen reported.

Mrs. Marrs, who was residing with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Freeborn, at the Palo Alto address, called firemen who worked over the child for 30 minutes. The coroner's office ordered an autopsy.

Funeral services for the baby, who had never been seen by his father, are pending at Roller & Haggood Mortuary in Palo Alto.

Mr. Slovich, who had worked in Palo Alto for the past 10 years, walked into a car driven by Carl Hurn, 22, of Mountain View, on El Camino Real near Manzanita St. at 6:15 p. m., Redwood City police said Monday.

A basal skull fracture proved fatal at 12:01 a. m., attendants at Community Hospital reported. He was admitted to the hospital at 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

Mr. Slovich was a member of the Palo Alto Aerobics of Eagles. Authorities were attempting to locate relatives of the dead man in Gary, Ind.

Hurn was absolved from responsibility in the accident, police said. The Wadel child was riding in the rear seat of a car driven by his father, Joseph A. Wadel, 35, of 2379 35th Ave., San Francisco, when the left rear door flew open one mile

Squire Circle In Seventh Place

Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Columbian Squire Circle 434 was notified last week through the Squire Herald that the organization here now occupies seventh place in national standing, it was announced Monday.

The local group has jumped from 20th place to the present spot in the last month.

Chief Squire Jerry Britschgi has appointed new committee for the next few months and the boys already have met with their counselors to outline the coming program.

The social committee under Councilor John Sullivan and Squire Jim Kane have completed plans for a dance to be given in conjunction with the Newman Club at Foresters Hall, Friday, Nov. 16.

Squires had as their guest speaker this week, Mgr. A. A. Moran of the Port of Redwood City. He gave a resume of the history of the port and the important role it has played in the war effort. Squires said. He also pointed out that, with very few exceptions, a city of any importance is situated on or very near a port, be it coastal or inland—the inference being that water transportation is by far the cheapest.

Moran invited the Squires to visit the port in the near future when the navy releases it, especially at a time when some large ships are in the harbor so that the whole process of unloading, loading and storage can be demonstrated.

The Squires have also made plans for an orchestra and hope to have one fully organized by Nov. 16.

Hog Ranchers File Appeals

Formal appeals of nine Colma hog ranchers who are testing legality of the county's hog ranch license ordinance Saturday were filed with County Clerk William H. Augustus.

The appeals, announced recently by ATTY. Joseph J. Bullock, are made on the grounds that the ordinance is unconstitutional because it is discriminatory.

The men were tried and convicted in Judge R. A. Rapsey's justice court on Oct. 10.

Defendants are Thomas Callan, A. Del Grande, Hugo Paoli, J. Isola, J. Lamori, C. Agraesti, D. Malatucci and Emil Lombardi.

$1,000,000 County-Owned Fair, Fiesta Considered

SAN MATEO—Plans for an eventual million-dollar county-owned fair and floral fiesta installation at Bay Meadows were considered Tuesday by State Finance Department officials and a legislative committee in Sacramento.

The fair and exhibitions assembly committee headed by Assemblyman Jacob Leonard of Hollister, studied proposed postwar plans of some 22 district and county fairs amounting to $19,200,165.

According to George J. Davis of Millbrae, member of the San Mateo County Fiesta Committee, the million-dollar sum covered all buildings and expansion plans for the Fiesta committee. He points out that if the program develops as laid out in a long range plan by the committee, the fair will eventually total such an investment.

The plan of the committee to purchase 25 acres of Bay Meadows property as a permanent fair site is still in abeyance. Davis said today, committee members hope soon to have some action on the proposal, by the landowner.

200 Acres Sold East of San Mateo

Approximately 200 acres of the Bowie Estate property east of Bayshore Hwy. in San Mateo have been sold to L. Geiger, San Francisco investor, for an indicated price of $110,000, according to a deed filed with County Recorder T. Clark Rice Tuesday.

The property, which does not include the San Mateo Golf Course which is leased from the Bowie Estate, probably will be subdivided for homes, although no definite plans have been made, Trevor & Co., San Francisco realtors who handled the transaction, said today.

Superior Judges Off Duty Here

Both departments of Superior Court were without San Mateo County judges this week.

Judge A. R. Cotton of Dept. 2 is sitting for Santa Cruz County Superior Judge James L. Atteridge this week in several cases in which the latter has disqualified himself.

Judge Maxwell McNutt of Dept. 1 is still confined to Mills Memorial Hospital with a bronchial ailment. He is expected to return to his home in two or three days, Court Clerk Robert Duffy reported this morning.

Seabee Arrives Home Here 5 Minutes After Father Dies

Just five minutes before Chief Shipfitter Floyd Smit arrived home Monday, his father, Eli Emith, died suddenly at the family home, 303 Fulton St.

The discharged Seabee had stopped to chat with friends downtown here and arrived home too late. He had been overseas since May and prior to that had spent 24 months overseas.

Mr. Smit, fireman at the S. H. Frank & Co. Tannery here for many years, lived in Redwood City for the past 40 years. He was 67 years old.

A native of Pennsylvania, he was a member of the Tanners Unit of the Butchers Local 516. Mr. Smit also leaves his widow, Josephine; another son, Allen Anderson, of Redwood City and a sister, Mrs. Laura Covill of Oakland.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the Layne & Timney Funeral Home. Interment will follow at Alta Mesa Memorial Park.

How to master the art of coffee making

There is nothing served at your table that brings as much enjoyment at such a low cost as a cup of good coffee. Yet how many of us devote the same careful attention to the brewing of that coffee as is given to the preparation of other foods? Making a cup of good coffee is really an art, but a simple art in which anyone can become adept. There are about five rules that have become second nature to me in brewing coffee at home. Perhaps it's their very simplicity that spells success... what would you say?

1. First and foremost, I select the proper grind for the type of coffee maker I expect to use in brewing the coffee. This, of course, eliminates my having to have vacuum-packed coffee reground. It has been my experience that having already-ground coffee put through the grinder a second time too often results in loss of flavor and aroma of the coffee. And the brew made from twice-ground coffee is usually cloudy and bitter. (NOTE: Many of you, I know, prefer whole-bean coffee which is ground right at the grocers at the time of purchase. A delicious brew can be obtained by this method if you remember that just one grinding is sufficient.)
2. I MEASURE both coffee and freshly boiling water accurately. I know it is important to use the same exact proportions every time coffee is made to be sure it will always taste the same. A good rule of thumb for coffee that is rich in flavor, as well as strength, is one heaping tablespoon (or two level tablespoons) of coffee to each 6-oz. cup, or ¾ standard measuring cup, of freshly boiling water. However, personal taste does vary and, in the final analysis, you have to determine the strength you prefer and always use the same proportions.
3. I TIME my coffee-making carefully. The coffee should be in contact with the water for a definite length of time, depending on the type and capacity of your coffee-maker, as well as the strength of beverage desired. After the correct timing has been determined I stick to it; because I know that otherwise results will not be uniform.
4. I make it a point to SERVE coffee SOON after it is made. Because cool coffee cannot be reheated without injuring its flavor. (Besides, coffee that is over-heated, or boiled, loses its aromatic substances.)
5. I CLEAN the coffee-maker daily. Coffee oils have a tendency to cling to the inner surfaces of utensils and eventually impart an undesirable flavor to the coffee brew.

And that's all there is to it. Over a period of time I have developed my own "trade secrets". I have found, for instance, that it is best to purchase coffee in an amount that can be used within a week. Because once the coffee is ground exposure to the air causes it to begin to lose freshness.

As for cleaning, besides the soapy washing each day and the scalding with hot water, I keep the coffee pot "sweet" by a more thorough cleansing at least twice a month. A baking soda bath is my method. Too, when the coffee-maker is put in the cupboard between meals, I leave the cover off. This gives it a good chance to air.
